PEACE

IMPORTANT DESPATCH.

(PER ELECTRIC TELEGRAPH).

Montevideo, Feb. 12th, 2 p.m.

T. O'Hara to Rufino Varela.

Great news! Rumour that American mediation has been effective.

Peace will be concluded in a few days.

Lopez retires to Europe, being compelled to do so by the Americans, as he is the only obstacle to peace.

The allies will at once clear out for their respective countries.

The new Brazilian Minister has just been received by the Government.

IMPORTANT FROM SAN JUAN.

KLAPPENBACK MINES AND NO SURRENDER.

The Espigador brought mails from San Juan, but how they arrived in Rosario is not known it is supposed by special chasque the only feature of importance is that a strong body of rebels made a dash at the smelting house of Mr. Klappenback's silver mines, with the expectation of little or no resistance and plenty of booty; they were however disappointed for on coming up at a hand gallop a rifle was discharged at them by one of the brave defender's of the mines, the rebels at once pulled up and after a short conference sent one of their number, with a white shirt tied to the end of a lance, who asked for a conference offering to respect the lives and liberty of all the heroic defenders if they would but march out peacefully. Mr. Klappenback who is also Juez de Paz of the district, ignored the rebels and all concerned with them, threatening to at once shoot the fellow if he did not retire. The whole gang then levelled their lances, making several sham attacks, but seeing that the little garrison, some 16 men, were always on the alert and well armed with rifles, they all galloped off with many curses, not loud but deep.

We cannot too highly praise the heroism of Mr. Klappenback and his men on the occasion; although greatly outnumbered, they held to their posts. The rebels saw that the taking of the place would cost a trifle, and very discreetly decamped for other parts.

IMPORTANT FROM RIO.

DISCONTENT ABOUT THE WAR.

REVOLUTIONARY FEARS.

Rio Janiero, Feb. 5, 1867.

My last went forward by the Calypso Steamer of the Astronomical line and will probably reach you about the same time as this or before it.

The advices from the River Plate brought by the Galileo and the Arno relative to the revolutionary feeling which appeared to be gaining ground both in the Argentine Confederation and the Oriental Republic have caused a profound sensation here, as being extremely unfavorable to the cause of the triple alliance. The fact that Chili is secretly assisting the rebels, and Bolivia meantime troubling the Brazalian expeditionary forces in the Province of Matto Grosso lends an importance to the movement which it otherwise would not possess; besides it would seem to be necessary to call many troops from Paraguay to put down the rebellion, which becomes a very serious matter now that all that could be got together were absolutely necessary to enable the Allied armies to take the field, and act vigorously on the offensive; a delay in the active prosecution of the war just now may entail on the Allies the enormous expense and sacrifice of another years campaign, and it may be a question whether the resources of the three Powers will enable them to carry out such a tremendous undertaking, or whether they would not be then compelled to agree to peace on easier terms than at present would be granted to the vanquished foe. Brazilians and foreigners are all equally anxious for the next advices, as the former are disappointed at the diminished probability of an early attack which they expected would overwhelm and crush the power of Lopez, while it gave glory to their arms, and fear that new expenses and new sacrifices may be necessary; and the latter knowing the financial state of the country and the exhausted state of its pecuniary resources, while to raise the last levy of 10,000 men the Government have been compelled to pardon condemned criminals and give "honours" and titles in change for slaves freed and offered as soldiers by their owners, steadfastly hope for an early termination of the struggle, as their business is paralysed, new taxes have already been approved of by the Chambers and an increase in the duties on Imports is talked of, so that the prospects of Foreigners who have invested their Capital in commerce in this Empire are far from brilliant, and the means by which they are likely to be improved, at least for sone time to come, are far from being easily conjectured or distinguished.

Joseph Bowers, an American, who has been carrying on business in Porto Alegre absconded from that city with various sums of money and it would appear went to the River Plate. But, as if to prove the truth of the old proverb, Culpam pœna premit comes, the same number of the Jornal do Commercio which contained the name of Joseph Bowers as a passenger by the Galileo from the River Plate to England, likewise contained the nartative of his sharp pratice at Porto Alegre and his subsequent abscondance so that the Police authorities took him into custody at once.

The Jornaés, from the Province of Paraná, gives the following remarks on the American colonists sent down by the Brazilian Government to form the nucleus of a colony at Ignape:—"The North American emigrants who came down from Rio to Ignape have given us a proof of their morality. They committed all kinds of disorders, incendiarism, assassination, robbery, &c.; they are regular 'cavalheiros de industria' (sic). What 'beauties' Sr. Quintino Bocayuva has sent us from the United States! He, to all appearance, laid hold of all the vagabonds and burglars he could find in the New York streets, and sent them here to his country as colonists with capital and of strict morality. A well executed commission! Apparently there is an idea of making Brazil the Fernando de Noronha of the United States! Some of these worthies are in prison at Santos and we believe are to be sent back to Rio."

The moral of this is that the prospects for immigrants to Brazil are far from promising or satisfactory; for if the above be true it will cause the agricultural population, the laboring classes of the interior, to look upon all foreign settlers with distrust and suspicion, if not with opposition, and will be an obstacle to the spread of that feeling of welcome to colonists which the Brazilian Government have of late been so anxious to instil into the minds of the people at large. If untrue, it shows that the same old feeling of jealousy towards foreigners settling in the interior—the unfortunate idea of the dog in the manger—"Brazil para as Brazileiros"—is still as strong as ever in the minds of the people, and will greatly neutralise all the praiseworthy efforts of a patriotic Government, who study the dearest interests of their country by energetic endeavors to increase the scanty population of this vast empire, and thus promote the development of its immense natural resources by attracting labor and capital, the real life and blood and sustenance of every land.

The talented Brazilian physician and surgeon, Dr. N. Saboia, has by this packet received his diploma from the Royal Obstetrical Society of London in consequence of the clever treatises recently written by him on the obstetric art.

By the Calypso I sent you the copies of the balance-sheets of the English Bank of Rio de Janeiro, the London and Brazilian Bank, and the Banco Commercial, for 31st ult., and you will note that the first-named bank has increased the amounts of bills discounted, and has also obtained an increase in the monies deposited there in account current; while the second-named has experienced a falling off in deposits, and show also a decrease in the item of bills discounted.

Exchange for the Rhone has been passed on London at 23¼d for banker's drafts, and 23⅜d to 23½d for private bills; on Paris at 407r. per franc; and on Hamburg at 765r. per M.B. Brazilian 6 per cent. Stock has been sold at 89½; Sovereigns, 10$450; Bank of Brazil Shares, 174$.

Arrivals of carne secca this month from the River Plate are 14,648qq., and the market is over supplied.

Shipments (since my last) to the River Plate have been for Montevideo: per Iris, 56 pipes rum, 383 casks sugar, 500 bags feijão, 1,366 bags farina de Mandioca, 50 casks ground coffee; by the Calypso, 95 bales tobacco, 16 casks sugar, 20 bags ano, 20 casks coffee.

The Floating Cloud arrived here yesterday from Grimsby: she spoke on the 20th ult. the English brig John and Elizabeth, 59 days out from Liverpool to Buenos Ayres, in lat. 1° 26′ N., and long. 26° 27′ W.

The vessels loading for Montevideo are Fluminese, Maria, Ricardo, Buenos Ayres, Serra I., and S. José; for Buenos Ayres—Oberon, Norma, and Triumphante.

The Braganza, an English steamer, is daily expected here from Liverpool; she is commanded by Capt. P. Cappen, well-known both here and in the River Plate as the Commander of the steam transport Susan Beirne for some considerable time, during which he gained the friendship and esteem of all who knew him.

I shall write you again by the Galgo.

CABRAL.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

There will be an opera at Colon on Saturday night. We have been so long now with Colon shut up, that we can hardly realize Briol singing again on the boards of Colon. We have no doubt the theatre will be crowded: as yet we have not heard the name of the opera.

Friday night the great charity concert comesoff at Colon. All the tickets, we believe are sold. The receipts will be applied to the funds for distressed musicians.

The great Northern Alliance, concerning which we heard so much, seems to have dissolved. The contracting parties had named General Taboada Commander-in-Chief of the Northern Allied Army, but the National Government having named Gen. Rojo as Commander, the whole alliance has appareutly fallen through. We confess that we cannot well see the drift of this business, and probably the next diligence from the Interior will bring us further details. It certainly was the interest of us all to help the alliance, since the Allied Governors promised to raise an army of no less than 10,000 men, a force highly creditable for those provinces, and a great safeguard for peace in the Interior.

Sr. Mendez, one of the committee of investigation named by Governor Saavedra to inspect the accounts of the Northern Railway, has passed a note to the Minister of Finance, calling upon him to decide certain questions raised by the report. We think the Minister has acted very right in taking no notice of the matter. The Government has paid the guarantee and liquidated the liability in the most honorable manner. The report in question is now what the natives term 'fiambre.'

It will interest our readers to know that Admiral Tamandaré will shortly return to the River Plate to take supreme command of the squadron. The Emperor has never for a moment entertained the idea of dismissing Tamandaré; on the contrary, it is said in Rio that he has more confidence in the gallant Admiral than in all his other officers and generals put together.

The last attack on Curupaiti, for some reason or other, is by most people regarded as a very trifling affair, when in reality it has been a most serious business. The whole place is knocked to pieces. The bombardment is without example in the history of South American warfare: all previous attacks but mere child's play compared to it. Over three thousand 80, 100, and 120lb bolts, balls, and shells were thrown into Curupaiti; the country took fire in the neighborhood, and a Paraguayan powder mine exploded, no one knows whether with loss of life or not; but a bullock-cart was blown up over the tops of the trees. The Paraguayans held out, notwithstanding this awful deluge of shot and shell. It seems, as far as we can learn, that the Brazilian artillery aimed to knock down the 'abattis,' and in many places succeeded; but it was at once repaired. The Curuzu army must attack by land, either that or go up in gunboats and land from the river and take the place in flank. Either movement must be done, and ere this we believe has been accomplished. The Brazilians are determined to take the place at any cost, so we may expect startling news by every steamer.

We read in our riverine exchanges that our friend, Captain Hunter, has been commissioned by the Correntino Steamboat Company to go to England to buy two more steamers, the style of the Guarani, which steamer has been running now for some months, and made a deal of money. Captain Hunter has made for himself a great name in the River Plate. We wish him a pleasant voyage, and hope to see him soon back.

The Government of Cordova has betrayed every wish to help the Frayle Muerto Colony, and we believe will give Capt. Wehrhan a land grant of ten leagues to make his fort. We have translated the notes passed. Our readers are probably not aware that nearly all the lands about Frayle Muerto are now owned by English and Germans, and the interests at stake are very important.

Several farmers who have purchased and rented lands in Santa Fé, and are now about to drive their flocks north, have called on us to consult respecting the attitude of affairs in the Provinces. Previous to the return of President Mitre we felt little disposition to advise our friends to leave Buenos Ayres, but now that the President, with a strong respectable force is at Rosario, with Arredondo and Paunero ahead, we have no hesitation in saying that people who think of moving should start at once before the flocks begin to lamb. The dangers about the rebels, as far as our countrymen are concerned, are passed.

Mr. Edmund O'Dwyer, who for the last 11 years has been the head man or major-domo at the Gas House, is now about to retire and leave for his native hills in Tipperary. Everyone who has anything to do with the Gas Company must be aware of the great obligations the company and shareholders are under to Mr. O'Dwyer, who although a man in an humble walk of life, has proved himself a faithful servant and a most intelligent major-domo. We are unwilling that Mr. O'Dwyer should leave the Gas House without some acknowledgment on the part of the Directors for his valued services. Twice he saved the Gas House from total destruction; and his heroic behaviour last October, when the River Plate washed into the yard, was the subject of public eulogium. We believe that it is a great mistake of the Directors to part with so valued a servant: the Company cannot afford to lose so excellent a man, and we call on the Directors to use their best exertions to retain Mr. O'Dwyer; if however, Mr. O'Dwyer will not remain, we hope the Directors will testify their appreciation of his long and faithful services by a becoming donation. If ever any man in this country merited such a tribute of respect and esteem, it is O'Dwyer, and we feel certain that if the shareholders of this Company were consulted they would unanimously endorse our remarks.

We have received a very severe communication respecting Minister Flangini and the Lobos Light. We cannot publish the letter without a guarantee, as the Captain of the Port is already accusing a newspaper on the same subject. The Lobos Light question is assuming a very serious character, and we feel surprised Gov. Flores consulting the interests of commerce and shipping does not at once order the light to be restored to its proper station.

The English mail has brought us the news of the death of Lord St. Leonards, so well known as Mr. Sugden in legal circles, also Mr. Robertson, a distinguished Scottish writer.

The United States war steamer Brooklyn has arrived at Montevideo from Maldonado.

There is a telegram or 'ultima hora' in town, received by an Argentine merchant from a Liverpool River Plate merchant, announcing some political news affecting this country of the very highest importance, but the exact tenor of the news is held up as a great secret.

Yesterday there were no arrests that we could hear of and the "Ides of march" come and gone without the much talked of revolution. Our colleague, the Nacion stated that Monday was the day named for the outbreak, the parties who gave this information at the Policia, must have been evidently trying to play a practical joke on the Chief of Police.

The proposed wool tax in the United States has not yet been reported on, by the Committee of the Senate. We feel sure that the measure will be rejected should it ever be brought forward for discussion again, which the disturbed state of politics in that country does not render probable.

We understand the Government is going to sell the land fronting the river about Paseo Colon. This is undoubtedly most valuable property, and will fetch a very high figure. The only people likely to object to this sale are the washerwomen, who have so long enjoyed these premises rent free. We feel for these aged females, but can suggest no remedy, beyond sending a deputation of their own members to talk the matter over at head-quarters, in which case we trust due notice will be given that our reporter may be there to give us a true account of this novel and exciting scene in the Government-house.

This week a project for the complete redemption of the paper money will be laid before the public. We believe it to be sound, and no commercial man can doubt its utility. We trust every foreigner will interest himself, as far as he can, in completing the work so successfully commenced by the Provincial Government.

In this hot weather it is quite refreshing to think of the near prospect of waterworks in this city. We shall all, after a cool bath in the morning, be able to walk about town without getting half-choked and blinded by the dust. The energy displayed by the authorities in this matter is beyond all praise.

The Senate has not only rejected the Patent Law, but has also thrown out the bill for one per mil additional 'Contribucion Directa.' Had this last measure been passed, the property tax in this province would have been equal to the enormous amount of one shilling and fourpence in the pound sterling. This would have come very hard on our camp friends, who, what with the decline in the price of sheep and produce, coupled with increased taxation, had begun to look very gloomy.

Town property has augmented considerably in value since the passing of the Exchange-bill, and new houses are being run up on all sides: improvement in the camp will soon follow.

The Boca Railway is doing a great business. Crowds go daily on this line. due in a great measure to the able management and the central position of the stations at the Boca and Barracas.

The Southern Railway is also doing very well, Mr. Banfield being most strenuous in encouraging the traffic. The shares of this line are in demand, and, we believe, will soon be selling at par.

DON'T WHISTLE IN THE STREETS.

TWO ENGLISHMEN AND FOUR AMERICANS IN THE POLICIA.

To the Editors of the Standard.

Gentlemen.

Will you please publish the following:—

On Monday evening I, with another Englishman who had arrived with me by the packet Arno in the morning, were unceremoniously stopped in calle Suipacha by a party of serenos, who, without any provocation whatever, waylaid us and most unceremoniously wrenched our sticks from our hands. Four American gentlemen who were with us also met the same treatment, and we were all six eventually marched off to the Policia. On requesting an explanation and examination there we received none, and were kept till this morning on the frivolous charge, as we were afterwards informed, of "whistling in the streets."

I feel bound to call the attention of the Government to the gross conduct of these irrepressible serenos, who drag gentlemen off to the Policia, when they are quietly on the way to their hotel. Surely this is an abuse of authority, which falls very heavily on all new arrivals. I consider it my duty to call attention to the matter; although never in prison before, I care little that it should be known that I, as well as my friends, had to share the same den (I can call it no other name) with a murderer and other criminals, but I hope that a stop may be put to such a nuisance.

There are many circumstances connected with this sereno business, such as the charges for sending messages from the Policia, &c., which for the present I forbear to mention. I do not wish to annoy the Government unnecessarily, but for the good of my countrymen, and sincerely hope that a stop may be put to this sereno abuse.

Yours respectfully,

ONE OF THE ENGLISHMEN.

EUROPEAN NEWS.

Epitome of European and United States news, per Rhone.

The dates are—London, Jan. 13th, Paris 12th, Lisbon 14th, New York 10th.

COMMERCIAL NEWS.

Rate of discount at the Bank of England 3½, Bank of France 3 per cent. Consols 91. London and Brazilian Bank shares 13 to 11 discount; English Bank of Rio. Janeiro 1½ to ½ discount. A new Chilian loan for £2,000,000 was being negotiated in London. The new Spanish loan of £3,600,000, contracted for with M. Fould & Co., of Paris, was to be brought out in that city on the 12th January.

The balance-sheet accompanying the report of the Directors of the London and Brazilian Bank shows a balance of profit of £38,905 in the first half year of 1866, from which the Directors recommend a dividend of 22s. 6d. per share, leaving £20,155 to be carried on to the account of the second half year. The Directors state that they would have announced a larger dividend if they had not considered it prudent to make provision for losses which may result from the pressure sustained by the Bank in the financial crisis which occurred in Rio in 1866. This exactly agrees with what I wrote in my last letter.

Liverpool Cotton market flat, and prices fallen ¼d. per lb; the stock was 520,000 bales. Pernambuco firsts were quoted 16d., middling uplands 15¼d. per lb.

Hides: Market quiet, but there had been large transactions at Liverpool. Horns: Market firm.

In New York gold was at 133½; exchange on London 109¼; middling uplands cotton 34½ cents.

At Pernambuco, Jan. 28th, exchange on London was 24d. to 24¼d.

At Bahia exchange was 23½d. to 24½d. Carne Seca: River Plate stock was 44,800 arr., selling at 1½ to $3.

The amount of bullion in the Bank of England on the 31st Dec. was £19,247 859, and in that of France £28,580,987—an increase of about 60 per cent. on the amounts existing at the same period in 1865. This larger amount of bullion than ever before existed at one time in these two institutions will probably tend, with other causes, to keep a low rate of interest for some time in England.

MISCELLANEOUS NEWS.

In England the precautionary measures against any Fenian revolt continued, and in Dublin further seizures of arms and ammunition had been made. Parliament had been convoked for 5th of February, when a project for a reorganisation of the army and a Reform Bill will be presented, but of the latter nothing certain was known. Lord Stanley had announced to the American Minister in London that England would accept the arbitration of Belgium, or any other third power proposed by the U. States, in the matter of the Alabama claims, with the condition that the points for arbitration should be mutually agreed upon beforehand.

The French Chambers were to meet on the 4th February. On the 2nd January, when receiving the congratulations of the diplomatic corps, Louis Napoleon replied as follows:—"The new year enables me to express my hopes for the stability of the thrones of Europe, and the prosperity of the people. We are entering, I trust, on a new era of peace and conciliation, and the National Exhibition will assist in calming the various passions, and bringing sundry interests together." It is reported that the Emperor is again thinking of a congress of crowned heads, especially those of Austria, Prussia, Russia, and Italy, and which His Majesty wishes to convoke during the time of the Exhibition, in order to give new proofs of his peaceful intentions. A quadruple alliance is said to be proposed by France to England, Italy, and Austria, relative to the affairs of Turkey, which appear to get worse and worse. The revolt in Candia is again reported as extinguished, and the insurgents as fleeing to the coast, where they were embarking on board English, French, and Russian vessels of war, which were conveying them to other countries: in the mountain districts there were however still many armed groups, as also in Thessaly, and in Epirus there was great agitation. The new Greek cabinet, the president of which is Commondouros, had presented in its programme neutrality in the struggle between the Porte and its Christian subjects, but the sincerity of this declaration was doubted.

The Prussians are ruling in Hanover, not only with a very high, but also with a very harsh hand. They have confiscated the King's personal estate on the plea that in his flight he carried off public securities, and now they declare these securities null, and are issuing new scrip. Even the King's horses have been put up for sale by auction, to replace the cash taken by the King when quitting his capital, and in consequence of the rapidity with which the sales have been forced forward, some of the finest horses in Germany have been knocked down at absurdly low figures. The Emperor Napoleon and Baron Rothschild have bought two magnificent stallions, the property of the Crown Prince for less than £50 each. This is disgraceful to the Government that has behaved so meanly and vindictively.

Where is the Emperor Maximilian? What has become of him? A startling report reached this country by telegraph from Berlin a few days ago that "the Emperor Maximilian is a prisoner." From this it was naturally inferred that he had fallen into the hands of the Juarists at Orizaba, where he had been staying since the arrangement between the French and American Governments made it clear that the days of the Mexican empire were numbered. But if any faith is to be put in a more recent German telegram, Marshal Bazaine, and not the Juarist general, is the gaoler of the unfortunate Maximilian. It has been bruited abroad for some time that Maximilian did not intented to abdicate though he had made up his mind to leave Mexico, and that he was determined on reaching Europe to place before the world some documents, the publication of which would be a serious embarrassment to the Emperor Napoleon. To get at these documents and compel abdication are the motives now assigned for Maximilian's alleged detention by the French marshal. It may be all a wretched canard, as destitute of truth as the extraordinary French report that there is a party in Austria anxious to dethrone the Emperor Francis Joseph and to raise Maximilian to the imperial throne of the Hapsburgs, all title and clam to which he formally renounced at Miramar for himself and his issue, if any, before he went to Mexico; that Maximilian is privy to this traitorous conspiracy, and approves of the design, and that the Emperor, having been advised of the plot, has strictly forbidden his brother to land upon Austrian territory when he returns to Europe. We have felt it our duty to mention both reports, though we cannot but express our strong doubts of the truth of either.

The Emperor of Austria has enough of trouble on his hands without being menaced with this unnatural treason. To create unity of purpose among the heterogeneous members of his empire; to reconcile the Germans and the Magyars, and fuse the feelings and conduct of the Hungarians and Croats; to establish a dual Government, composed of Ministries independent of each other at Vienna and Pesth, and consolidate at the same time the physical resources of the empire; to bring conflicting races and creeds into harmonious action; to revive the national spirit, so depressed by the disastrous events of Sadowa; to restore public confidence; to replenish the drained Treasury and balance income and expenditure—to do this herculean work is a task that would tax the greatest mind that ever directed the energies of a nation; and this is the work which circumstances over which he had no control have cut out for the Emperor Francis Joseph. Most heartily do we wish him strength to accomplish it.

Lord St. Leonards died at his seat at Boylefarm on Thursday night, after a few days illness. He was in his 86th. year.

The frigate Susquehannah, with General Sherman and Minister Campbell on board, arrived at Vera Cruz on the 27th ult. An offer made by French officials of an escort to the city of Mexico was declined by General Sherman. Sherman has released Ortega, and ordered the arrest of General Sebgwick.

A proclamation has been issued at Vera Cruz declaring that the Emperor Maximilian has not left Mexico. The Emperor is reported to have formed a strong alliance with the Church party, securing important monetary advantages. It is also stated that he has offered to turn the Govenment over to Miramon, Marquez, and Marin, and appeal to the popular vote to decide upon a new Government. The Republicans are concentrating their forces for an attack upon San Luis Potosí.

A quarrel between Spain and Honduras has broken out. A telegram, dated Madrid, Dec. 21, says two Spanish frigates had left Cuba to compel Honduras to observe neutrality in the Chilian question, and also for the purpose of protecting Spanish commerce in the Central American waters.

LATEST TELEGRAMS.

Pesth, Jan 8—The leaders of all parties in the Hungarian Diet have resolved to bring forward an address expressing disapproval of the Imperial patent recently issued sanctioning a new system for recruiting the army. The proposed address will declare that the urgency which exists for the reorganization of the army is in itself a proof of the necessity for re-establishing the Contitution.

Paris, Jan. 1.—At the reception held to-day at the Tuileries, the Emperor addressed the following speech to the diplomatic body:—

"The opening of the new year furnishes me an opportunity of expressing my wishes for the stability of thrones and the prosperity of nations. I hope that we are entering upon a new era of peace and conciliation, and that the universal Exibition will contribute towards calming passions and drawing closer the general interests.

His Majesty thanked the diplomatic body for their congratulations, and begged them to convey to their respective Governments the expression of his sentiments of friendship.

The Emperor addressing the Archbishop of Paris said:—

"When I see at the head of the Paris clergy a prelate so deeply devoted to the interests of religion as well as to those of the State—one who everywhere supports by his words and actions the great principles of faith, charity, and conciliation, I say to myself, 'Heaven will hear his prayers' Those prayers are for France a blessing, and for me a new source of consolation and hope."

Florence, Jannary. 1.—At a reception given to-day by King Victor Emmanuel to a deputation from the Italian Parliament, his Majesty thanked the senators and deputies for the sentiments of perfect devotedness which they expressed in their own name and in the name of the country. "The new year," said the King, "reminds Italians that they have now secured the independence of their country, and with it an improvement in the civil administration and increased public prosperity. During the period of peace upon which we are entering, we shall not cease to devote our attention to the army. The army is not only necessary for the preservation of that independence which it so greatly contributed to acquire, but is in itself a solid guarantee for internal security, and an element of moral unity and of that civil training which renders disciplined nations strong and capable of accomplishing great deeds."

TERRIFIC GALE IN LONDON.

London, Jan. 7, 1867.

During the whole of Monday night and Tuesday morning the metropolis was visited by a gale, at intervals equalling the force of a hurricane, which has occasioned, as usual, not only a great destruction of property, but we regret to add, loss of life. The gale commenced about midnight; and from one o'clok till seven, and even later in the moning, the wind blew with fearful force, tearing huge limbs off the trees in exposed situations with amazing power, and doing an amount of damage which would hardly be credited. Between five and six, yesterday morning the hurricane was at its height, and, accompanied as it was with heavy falls of rain, which was blown in sheets of water to the ground locomotion was almost rendered impossible to those about at that early time.

The wind was chiefly from S. W. and S.S.W., but it frequently blew with sudden squalls from all points of the compass, and it was the force of the wind, that on the Brighton and South Coast Railway, the South Eastern, and the London, Chatham, and Dover, it was with the greatest difficulty the drivers of trains during the night could make head against it, and they were necessarily very late in reaching their various termini. The guards state that for at least sixty miles on the south coast the wind for three hours blew with the force of a hurricane, tearing up small trees by the roots, and in many places strewing the lines with broken branches, so that great caution was rendered necessary in running the trains.

At Brixton, Clapham, Stockwell, and Camberwell great damage has been done to house and garden property. At Stockwell a conservatory attached to a large house near Gothic House College was blown down, pulling with it a mass of brickwork, and doing other damage; and in the Clapham-road the roof of an old house was partialy blown away. One or two men on the road from Surbiton with a waggon-load of vegetables for the London market, was knocked down near Wandsworth by the branch of a tree, and received a severe scalp wound; and other injuries are reported as having been received by persons in the streets through the fall of tiles chimney-pots. Great damage is reported as having occured at Dulwich, Norwood, and Sydnham; and at Streatham two stacks of hay were blown from their positions by the force of the wind.

At the Thames Embankment the works were carried on with extreme difficulty, as they were also on the new bridge at Blackfriars; on the latter the men frequently appeared to be hardly able to keep a firm footing.

On the river during the night the scene was one of wild excitement. Watermen above bridge during the gale to keep them safely moored, and very few accidents happened. Below bridge, however, near Deptford, two men belonging to a vessel from Goole were drowned in a boat in which they had been asbore, by a sudden squall of wind. One belonged to London and the other to Goole. Their names have not been ascertaind.

FIRE AT THE CRYSTAL PALACE

The destructive fire which occurred on Sunday last at the Crystal Palace will be regretted throughout the country, for the building has come to be regarded as a national institution, and everybody who ever visits the metropolis, or arrives in England from abroad, goes there as a matter of course. The novelty of such an edifice and collection has now worn off, but their value in the promotion of the education and recreation of the people are more widely recognised than ever, and we are likely in time to have similar establishments in many parts of the country. But there is something more than a passing interest and regret connected with the occurrence It has its lessons for the managers of every public building in the land, and it is for this reason that we call attention to it here.

The fire broke out about two o'clock in the day, and is believed to have originated in the north wing of the building, in which trees and plants were stored for preservation throughout the winter. Whether it arose from over-heating, or, as some say, from an escape and explosion of gas, is not at present clear, but it speedily made its way from the basement underneath the main building to the floors above. At this end, our readers familiar with the place will remenber, is—or, as we must now say, was—the tropical department, separated by a large screen from the remainder of the edifice. In this department were the exotic trees and fernes, chimpanzee, hippopotams, &c. But of more importance still were the courts at the side, including the beautiful and costly Alhambra, the Assyrian and Egyptian the Byzantine, and the Indian; with, in the gallery above, a valuable collection of models in naval architecture. Added to these were the Queen's apartments, and the library and reading-room, making altogether perhaps the most important section of the building.

LETTER FROM THE EMPEROR MAXIMILIAN.

The France publishes the following letter from the Emperor Maximilian to M. Lares, President of the Council of Ministers:—

My dear Sir,—The gravity of the present condition of our country has led us to call to our aid the councillors of the Crown, in order that, by their clear and prudent judgment, we may arrive by legal means at a solution of the existing difficulties. A weighty duty is now imposed upon us, but we have a thorough conviction that the welfare of the country demands its accomplishment. After reflection free from all party prejudice and passion, we have arrived at the conclusion that it might be our duty to restore to the Mexican nation the power which it had confided in us. The following are the reasons which confirm us in this opinion: first, the civil war still continues—with grief we state the fact; it stains the devastated territories with the blood of thousands of our countrymen, and is every day assuming vaster proportions; secondly, the hostility of the United States towards the monarchial principle is daily becoming more marked; thirdly, our allies have declared it impossible for them, from political reasons, to continue their support, and it has even lately come to our knowledge that there have been negotiations between the French and and the United States Government with the object of coming to an agreement as to the means of putting an end to the civil war which has been so long ravaging our country. Considering the opinion of the great majority of the American people, it would not be possible, they say, to attain that end, except by founding, by the aid of these two Powers, a new Government of a republican form. Although it has pleased Providence to destroy the happiness of our domestic hearth, and although our courage and strength have consequently been unduly tried, we should not for one moment hesitate to make any sacrifices for the welfare of the nation if we had not well-founded reasons for believing that our person would prove an obstacle to the pacification of the country. These are the motives for calling round us the Ministers—who have already given us so many proofs of their adhesion and fidelity—with the objeet of finding a solution for existing difficulties.

MAXIMILIAN.

GOTTON MARKETS.

Manchester, 8th Jan. 1867.

The demand for the raw material continues active at gradually hardening rates with a general belief that a further rise is inevitable. Prices of manufactured goods have also strengthened from day to day in sympathy with Cotton, and a fair average business has been done for all outlets.—Stocks generally are exhausted, and many producers are again under contract for forward delivery.—The advance, however, in manufactures has not kept pace with the rise in cotton, and the position of both spinners and manufacturers is worse than it was before the recent advance set in. The only remedy for this evil is a curtailment of production which manufacturers as a body will be compelled to adopt.—

Liverpool, 8 Jan. 1867

The prospects of cotton supply for the present year are, it must be admitted, the reverse of favorable, indeed it would be no abuse of language to call them alarming. A fair estimate deduced from the most reliable information that can be obtamed upon the subject shows an aggregate supply to Great Britain for the year 1867 of 3,200,000 bales, against 3.750,000 bales for 1866.

WOOL CIRCULAR FOR THE RIVER PLATE MAIL,

OF JANUARY 9, 1867.

Liverpool, 8th January, 1867.

There is a little improvement in the general tone of commercial affairs.

River Plate Wools, both here and on the Continent, are quiet, and though, in special cases, good sales have recently been made, the demand is not general, and for some classes a moderate concession in price will not induce buyers to operate.

The new clip of Australian will be large and good, and European manufacturers are not likely to suffer from a short supply of either that or of R. Plate Mestizo and Merino Wool.

The following is our Annual Circular:—

The year of reckoning just closed, which, has destroyed so many financial and speculative undertakings, has dealt gently with the great body of the Wool trade and the the manufactures connected with it; the chief exception being the Worsted branch, (Bradford), which has had periods of depression and loss, owing to the German War, the contraction of the American demand, and the fall in the price of Cotton.

Wool.—Though sometimes during the year unprofitable to importers the losses have not fallen in such crushing amounts as in other goods, nor has the article been at any time inconvertible into cash.

Prices compared with the corresponding period of the previous year show a fall of 20 per cent. in English Combing Fleeces, 10 per cent. on Foreign Worsted, 7 to 10 per cent. on fine Clothing, and 10 to 20 per cent. on coarse filling descriptions.

Stocks of English Wool, though not at all too large, are probably larger than at any time during the last eighteen months: of "fine" Wool—including Australian, Cape, and River Plate—the stocks in Europe (and of domestic Wool the United States) show some increase: of medium and coarse kinds stock is moderate.

As regards the future, we see no reason—excepting in special instances—for expecting a higher range of prices. The prospect for an ample supply of Wool is satisfactory, and we must not lose sight of the great advance in the value of food and the reduced labour fund consequent upon, a contraction in railway extensions and similar stimulants. On the other hand the abundance of money seeking employment and the gradual strengthening of credit since the panic, will assist partly to counteract these influences, and may, promote a fair steady trade.

The import of Wool into England during the first eleven months of 1866, as compared with the corresponding period of 1865, shows an increase in weight of 11 per cent. and the export a decrease of 20 per cent., the balance shows an increase of 38½ millions of pounds retained for home consumption, but it will reduce the force of these per centage differences if we remember that they are independent of Wool of home growth, supposed to he somewhere about equal to the huantity imported. Our export of woollens, worsteds, yarns, &c., shows an increase in value of 5½ per cent. in 1866 on 1865.

B. AYRES FORGED PAPER DOLLAR NOTES.

To the Editors of the Standard.

Gentlemen,

Will you, or any of your numerous correspondents, inform me through your paper how strangers are to know the genuine notes from the counterfeit ones? I have asked several, who have been some time in the country, who say, 'you must see the water-mark,' which is a complete fallacy, as this is well-known to be easily imitated. Then what is it that we may know good ones by? The fifties and hundreds seem to be most plentiful; indeed, it is astonishing the number of bad ones in circulation. By answering this you will not only oblige me, but a large circle of people in the neighborhood of Buenos Ayres.

Yours respectfully,

A VICTIM.

SAVINGS BANK.

BANK MAUA AND CO.

101--Cangallo--103.

BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks, artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, now offer the same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo from Nine a.m. till Three p.m. every day, for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned, Sundays and holidays excepted.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighborhood.

Buenos Ayres, 2nd January, 1867.

P.P. MACA & Co.,

M. A. DE FREITAS AMORIM.

CONDITIONS.

First—The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty-five Dollars currency or one Silver Dollar upwards.

Second—The interest allowed is six per cent. (6 p.%) per annum, which is liquidated every six months.

Third—The depositors can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

Fourth—Once the money deposited exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars currency, or one thousand dollars silver, the depositor, if he wishes can open an account current, according to the rules established by the Bank.

Fifth—In case the depositor loses his pass book, it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.
